

COMMUNITY

Apex Lifts was established over 40 years ago by Arthur Jenchner, a Londoner and father of current managing director Warren Jenchner. As a family owned business, respect, support, care and integrity are at the heart of our company ethos. Based in Greater London, and operating across London and the Home Counties, we strive to be an active member of the community we operate in.

COMMUNICATION

At Apex we understand our lifts have a major impact on people's lives. That's why we work with our customers to keep people up-to-date with any installation, maintenance and repair work, through notices, social media and our website.

GIVING BACK

We believe in supporting the community in which we live and work, and are all involved in the work experience and training opportunities we offer to the local community.

They are actively encouraged to volunteer for the many charitable projects we help sponsor and run. Philanthropy is at the heart of Apex Lift's economic success, and we support and actively fundraise for several charities.

COMMUNITY HOSPICE

Apex is a long standing sponsor of the Bexley and Greenwich Community Hospice, which provides specialist palliative care to young and elderly patients with chronic and terminal illnesses. A free service, and with only a third of its funding coming from the NHS, it is dependent on donations to continue providing the excellent care it offers. The Apex Lifts team, alongside friends and family, participate in an annual 13 mile bike ride round Bewl Water, Kent, to raise money for the Hospice.

BEXLEY SNAP

This year, Apex Lifts chose to support another great local charity, Bexley SNAP, which provides activities, support, care and education for young people with disabilities and learning difficulties in the local community. Apex funded a residential activity weekend for Bexley youngsters, aged 12 to 18, some of whom had never previously spent a night away from home. As well as enjoying an exciting action-packed weekend, it gave their families a well-deserved break.

BRITISH HEART FOUNDATION

As part of the wider UK community, Apex also supports national charities. Our staff take part in the annual London to Brighton Bike Ride, to raise money for the British Heart Foundation.

VOLUNTEERING

Building on our charity fundraising, there is an infrastructure in place for staff to dedicate time and resources volunteering for local causes.

THE LIFT COMMUNITY

Having a positive impact on the lift industry has been a mission of Apex Lifts since it was founded. We are proud members of a number of trade associations and bodies, including LEIA, NAEC and New London Architecture, and are always striving to push the boundaries and further improve lift quality, safety and service to make London's lifts the best they can be.

“ We believe in supporting our local and national communities. All Apex staff are actively encouraged to volunteer amongst the many charitable projects we help sponsor and run. ”
